

With Early Start... We make a difference

Families of infants and toddlers, from birth up to 36 months at risk of or with developmental delays and disabilities, can receive parent-to-parent support from family resource centers. Family resource centers receiving Early Start funding actively collaborate with local regional centers and educational agencies and help many parents, families, and children access early intervention services.

California's Early Start family resource centers (FRCs) are staffed by parents who have children with special needs and provide information and parent-to-parent support. Each FRC is unique, reflecting the needs of their community. They may operate as independent sites or be based in regional centers, local education agencies, public health facilities, hospitals, or homes. Services are available in many languages and are culturally responsive to the needs of the individual family.

FRCs contracted by the California Department of Developmental Service may provide:

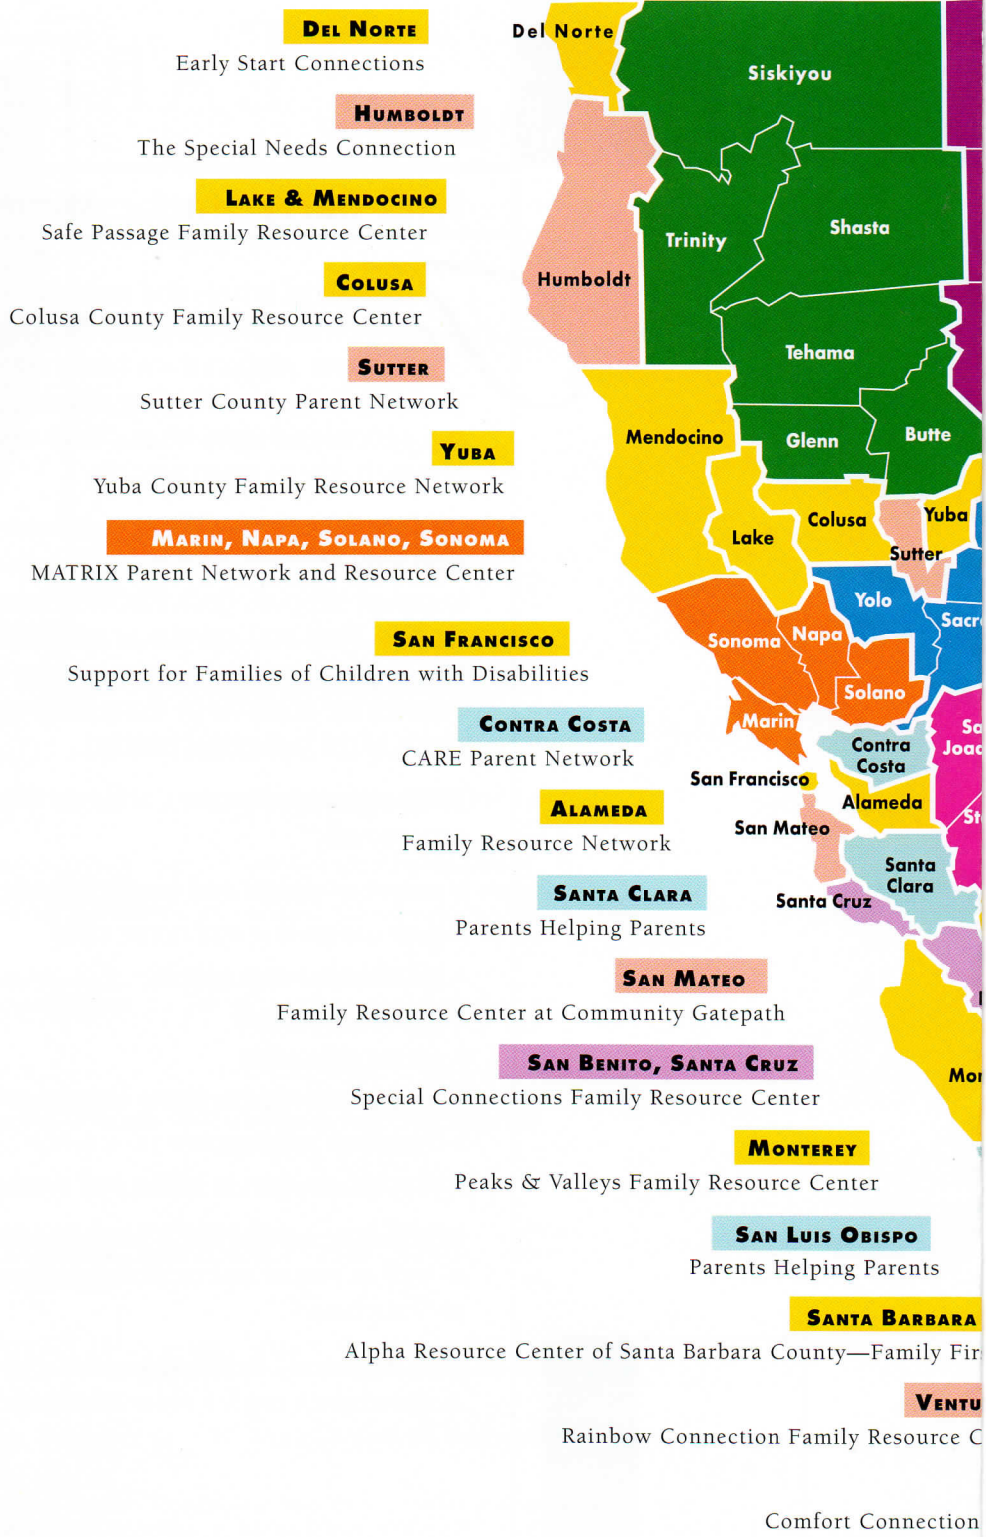

- ▶ parent-to-parent and family support
- ▶ peer counseling and home visits
- ▶ information and referral
- ▶ public awareness
- ▶ parent education
- ▶ support services in many languages
- ▶ transition assistance
- ▶ support services in urban and rural communities

In addition, several FRCs have newsletters, resource libraries, and websites, as well as parent and/or sibling support groups and telephone "warmlines" or "babylines."
