

How to Get the most out of Voice Class

Apply yourself

Practice your self-discipline

Do not miss class unless you or a loved one is truly ill
(Call if you are going to be absent)

Be open and curious about new concepts

Experiment with your voice. Do some of the additional “on your own” exercises in the class textbook.

Practice at least 45 minutes a day – ok at least 20 minutes if you’re a beginner

(Note: thinking about concepts and mentally studying counts as well)

Participate in the required recitals

Be on time

Ask to be heard alone for help

Ask questions

Participate in class

Do the assigned homework weekly as instructed on your syllabus
